Why use The Bahamas as a Global Trading Destination?

The Bahamas has world-leading ports such as Nassau and Freeport, which process millions of tons of cargo annually. It is well located in relation to the U.S., reducing transit times, hence it is good for exporters and importers. Moreover, good trade deals enhance cross-border transactions, both raw materials and finished goods. Dependable international shipping logistics in the Bahamas streamlines these functions and reduces delays in the area where weather changes are frequent.
